R U OK Day

Thank you for Supporting
On Thursday September 10th

On Thursday September 10th the Student Support Services team (including Pippa) and the Cafe promoted R U OK Day. The aim of this day is to inspire all people to have regular and meaningful conversations. By asking 'Are you ok?' you could start a conversation that changes or even saves a life! Getting behind this simple gesture is something that we can all do to help are family, friends and people around us.

Remember...every day is a good day to ask "R U Ok?"

In order to spread the word across campus we provided a free lunch of delicious hot pumpkin soup, bread rolls and mini iced cupcakes. The day was successful and we truly hope that we were able to get this important message got across to everyone.

Our thanks go to Cath and the Café staff , AMJ Fresh fruit and Vegetables, Allclypt Catering specialist deliveries and whole sales and the Senior Residents for helping to make this day a success!

Mental Health Awareness Week

Over the last couple of months we have focused on looking after our mental health. It started with "R U OK?" Day in September and then we continued along the theme with Mental health Awareness week in October.

These events are a great opportunity to promote the importance of looking after yourself and each other during what is often a stressful and pressured time of your lives...Uni! In order to relieve some stress we decided to take you back to your childhood this year with fun activities such as colouring in, face painting, bubble blowing, hoola hoops, dress ups, totem tennis, bunny hoppers and free food of course!

It was great to see so many people coming and getting involved, having a laugh and taking a break from study! Thanks to everyone that got involved and to those who helped out on the day.

Exam time is near...

The countdown is on..... exams are just around the corner! As they approach it's important to be as prepared and calm as possible. Here are some tips to help you survive....

On the day of the exam

- Ensure that you eat well & are well hydrated before you sit for an exam. This will help with energy levels and concentration.
- Ensure you are well rested. Get a good night sleep before the exam. Try relaxation techniques to promote a restful sleep. Being tired for the exam because you stayed up all night cramming is no good for your concentration.
- Make sure you get to the exam venue in plenty of time.
- Check that you have everything you need (and are permitted to have) for the exam eg calculator, pens, pencil, eraser, text if it is an open book exam.
- Avoid last minute cramming as this may add to stress – if you don't know it now it is too late.
- Avoid talking to other stressed students while waiting for the exam as this can further elevate stress levels.

During the exam

- Try to relax once you are in the exam venue. Taking a few slow, deep breaths and consciously relaxing any tense muscles can help. Then you can focus more easily. If you find yourself getting stressed during the exam, take a little time to try and relax again and refocus.
- Use the allocated reading time to read the instructions carefully and look through the questions.
- Work out which questions have the highest percentage of marks attached.
- Work out how much time you have to answer each question (taking into account the relative percentage for each question). For instance, if you have 60 multiple choice or short answer questions to do in one hour you should allocate approximately one minute per question. If you have four essay questions to do in three hours allocate around 30-45 minutes for each; this allows some time at the end for checking your work. Questions that have a greater percentage of marks attached should have a correspondingly greater time allocated.

- Answer the question/s you feel confident about first. This will get you started and build your confidence.
- Make sure you write something – even if only in note form for all questions. Sometimes you will be able to gain a few extra marks for your notes.
- Allow some time at the end of your exam to go back over your work. This will allow you to pick up errors or add extra information.

Most importantly.....

DO YOUR BEST EVERYONE!
AIM FOR MINIMAL STRESS AND MAXIMUM SUCCESS!

Companion Animal Special Interest Group

This semester has been incredibly busy for the Companion Animal Special Interest Group. We started with an Idexx wet lab, where Dr. Graham Swinney once again entertained us while teaching us the tricks to successful blood smears. Dr. Shangzhe followed up with a rabbit talk, and explained their specific husbandry requirements of our small furry friends. Kyneta coordinated RSPCA Cupcake Day and managed to make in excess of $800 for a wonderful charity.

Dr. Kate King came from Canberra Cat Clinic to give us some tips on cat hospitalisation and handling, and helped us to understand their specific requirements when at the clinic.

Gordon from Wombaroo gave us another great talk on young animal nutrition.

Our end of year wrap up was the Cocktail party where 2013 Animal Science Graduate Sophie Harris came to talk to us about her physiotherapy business and how to make money from a passion. The talk was followed by a demonstration with her delightful dog Ana.

Our AGM was highly successful with all committee positions filled. On behalf of the outgoing committee, I would like to thank all members for their support over the past 2 years in getting the club going. It has truly been an honour to lead through this time, and I wish the new committee members all the best into the future.

Christine
outgoing CASIG President

Roseworthy Animal Science & Postgraduate Students Society

A Message From RAPS

On behalf of the RAPS Committee I would like to thank everyone and especially our members who have supported us in our inaugural year. The RAPS committee are in the process of planning events for next year and would like to have input from all year levels. We have space on our committee for year level representatives or anyone who would like to be a part of this club. If you would like to help or have some ideas for events you would like please feel free to email RAPS at raps@auu.org.au

Production Animal Special Interest Group—Pig Club 2015

Roseworthy Women's Basketball

It has been another great year for basketball with some new faces and talent joining the club and a lot of memorable moments. We once again had two competitive teams with Roseworthy Pink managing to make it into the semi-finals. The two showdowns brought out our competitive sides with Roseworthy Black managing to get the edge and triumphing to take out the honours in both games. We are sad to have to say goodbye to our entire team of 6th years who have been a big part of Roseworthy basketball in the time that they have been here but we wish them all the best for the future. A special mention to Alanna Knight, who has been instrumental in the running of the club in her time at Roseworthy, we will certainly miss having you around.

We finished off our season with a night of bowling and mini golf and a celebratory lunch. Some didn't want to end with Sharna not quite managing to swap her own shoes for the very stylish bowling shoes as we left. All in all it was a great season and we would like to thank David Purdie and accommodation services for their generous sponsorship, everyone who played, filled in and came out and supported us.
