

News 7-11-31

EXPERIMENTS ARE BEING CONDUCTED at Waite Agricultural Research Institute to determine whether it is possible to grow linseed profitably in South Australia. A heavy import duty has raised the price. The experiments are conducted in pots to determine the manurial and water requirements of linseed.—“News” picture.