ment to face, but the stern necessity of living within our income will require a careful overhaul of the larger departments in order to make certain that the community is getting value for the huge sums spent, and that the policy is not too costly for our diminished national income,

UNEMPLOYMENT CRISIS

"There are more than 14,000 persons registered at the Labour Exchange as unemployed, and there are considerable numbers not registered. The Government is spending at the rate of £12,000 a week supplying rations, and it is estimated that 45,000 persons are wholly dependent upon this sustenance .

"The Government has been criticised for not finding work for this army of men, but our critics have not made any suggestions which the Government has been able to adopt. The average ration to a male adult costs 7/ per week, and it is difficult to find suitable employment for the time necessary to earn that amount, and the provision of relief works would necessitate much more money than the Government can obtain if all are to be given some employment. It would appear that the Government will be unable to find employment for any substantial proportion of the unemployed, and that the restoration of prosperity to our industries is the only rea! solution of the problem. This means that the absorption of the unemployed will be a gradual and slow process, and that for some time to come we will be called upon to make provision for assistance for large number of workers.

"While realising the difficulties of the situation, the Government is not content to allow the present unsatisfactory position to continue, and intends almost immediately to introduce legislation and appoint a representative committee to go fully into the question of the relief of unemployment, the provision of work, and the supplying of rations.

LOAN WORKS TO CEASE

"Owing to the present financial stringency it is quite impossible for the Loan Council to borrow this year anything like the sum that has been borrowed in recent years. The total Loan Programme for the Governments of Australia has been fixed at £15,000,000, and the share attributable to South Australia is £1,830.000. Adding to this amount the sum of £725,000 estimated credits to the Loan Fund, the total amount available to South Australia is £2,555,000, out of which the deficit for 1929-30, viz., £1,625,000, must be financed, leaving approximately £930,000 available for loan expenditure. In addition, the sum of £56,000 will be found by the Commonwealth under the Migration Agreement, making the total loan programme £986.000.

"This figure is so much lower than last year that it has meant a drastic curtailment in the loan programme, and the result of this drastic curtailment will be that in almost all cases loan works will have to cease by the end of October, 1930.

"The Loan Estimates for 1930-31, giving full details of the works proposed for the current financial year, will shortly be presented to Parliament."

"If the House disagrees with the Government's plans, it must offer some alternative or take the responsibility," declared the Premier.

"We want to push on with the Budget next week, and I will ask the House to sit late.

How The Money Will Be Raised

The following table shows the difference in revenue estimated to be collected this year and that actually collected last year, which in most cases, was considerably below what was estimated:-

10tals £12,764,050 The amount of £600,000 for motor taxation and licences, shown as increased revenue, does not mean that the present taxes willby increased,

Last year £300,000 was collected from £137,000, as receipts from soldier settlers. motor taxation, etc., and this, with a further £300,000, was paid into the Main Roads Fund to be spent entirely on roads under special Act of Parliament. In future this will not be done, the whole of the money going into general revenue.

The small increase of £16,349 in waterworks and sewers will come not from increased charges, but from a natural increase in the activities of the department.

The increase in interest and exchange is accounted for by additional returns upon adother activities and by the inclusion of received at this time last year.

The decrease in stamp duties is due to reduced volume of business in land sales, amegements, totalisator investments, etc. The decrease in succession duties is set down purely on the assumption that last year's revenue from this source will not be reached. A more hopeful position in railway finances is indicated because better freight receipts are expected, including that resulting from an estimated harvest of 44 million bushels, compared with 23,345,000 last season. At vances made to the Tramways Trust and present railway revenue is slightly below that

Where The Money Will Be Spent
