Celebrating a 100 year Partnership

An exhibition celebrating the centenary of the official affiliation between Roseworthy Agricultural College and the University of Adelaide will be open to the public from August 9th at the Roseworthy Campus of the University of Adelaide.

In 1905, at the initiative of the then Principal, Professor Arthur James Perkins, Roseworthy College became affiliated with the University of Adelaide. For many years students in the Faculty of Agricultural Science spent their second years at the College and took selected Diploma lectures.

A change in 1944 saw the College giving special lectures for about one quarter of the University course. In 1956 a new course for the degree in Agricultural Science began in which work taken at Roseworthy College comprises one day a week in Third Year and, in Fourth Year, 1½ days per week for students taking Animal Husbandry II.

Students in Agricultural Science were required to have certain experience in farm work, some of which could be undertaken at Roseworthy College. Men holding the R.D.A. could pass through the degree course in three years.

Matriculation.—Men who held the R.D.A. with honours could thereby matriculate at the University of Sydney in the faculties of Agriculture and Veterinary Science. At the University of Adelaide, the Diploma with honours did not guarantee matriculation but could be regarded as ensuring special consideration by the Matriculation Board for the applicant concerned.

The exhibition features photographs, correspondence, diaries, record books and other memorabilia from 100 years of events and activities at the College and has been assembled from the University Archives.

It will be on display at the Roseworthy Information Centre from 8.45am to 5.00pm Monday to Friday until September 30.

It will then be moved to the National Wine Centre in mid-November, in the lead-up to the actual centenary on December 5th 2005.

For further details contact Ms Tupp Carmody at the University on 8303 4194.

ROSEWORTHY CAMPUS & STUDENT FUND

The Co-Patrons recently had a fruitful meeting with the Patron, Robert Champion De Crespigny. Progress is being made towards the public launch tying in with a significant event.

Prior to the public launch, ROCA is encouraging anyone reading this to make a donation to add to the original sum contributed by the ROCA Committee

The contact person is:-

Mrs Joan Playford

ROCA NEWS

FROM THE PRESIDENT

This issue of the Digest is again filled with the current activities of ROCA. The Committee has received gratifying comments about recent issues. Our interaction with Roseworthy and University officials continues at a high and productive level. The recent constitutional changes of the Alumni Association (see Page 7) enables ROCA to continue working for mutual benefit while better allowing us to continue with our own activities.

December 7th 2005 marks the centenary of affiliation between Roseworthy Agricultural College and The University of Adelaide. On that date in 1905 a formal arrangement was put in place for the university to recognise the academic achievements of Roseworthy graduates and for Roseworthy to teach students enrolled in university agricultural science courses, the latter arrangement continuing until the 1960's. This occasion is being celebrated by a display set up by the University Archives. It was launched in the Barr-Smith Library in May, is now at the Information Centre on Roseworthy campus, and will be featured at the Australian Wine Centre in December.

We are most concerned about the costs of production and distribution of the Digest. Members will be aware that their $60 life time membership fee is now rapidly eroded in meeting operational costs. While there is no crisis, your Committee is assessing future funding so that the way ahead is sound.

The Committee is reluctant to change the existing fee structure. The response to members' voluntary contributions to supplement ROCA costs launched in 2003 has been very good. Further contributions will be welcomed.

As a result of an in depth membership analysis (see Page 5), we note that recent graduates are down in our numbers. We are undertaking a strategic plan to recruit new members over the next 5 years.

Member support and encouragement in recruitment is welcomed.

Graduate Networks as Opportunities for ROCA

Here's a couple of Graduate Network opportunities!!! And there's another on Page 4.

1955 GRADUATES

Can we make up a group to celebrate 50 years since graduation?

Please mark your Dinner acceptances clearly 1955, and I will liaise with our Treasurer to get the group together. See you there. Wilf Bowen 08 8293 3022

HELP

Tony Clancy, one of the RAC group starting in 1964, says that last year this group got together for the first time since 1992.

There has apparently been good contact among the group but Tony is keen for compatriot John Cooper to contact him.

Tony's address is 41 Eton Rd, Somerton Park 5044.

And Tony's request prompts another.

It is obvious to ROCA that many "years", including Tony's meet frequently, or less so. Regardless, the Digest would like to hear from coordinators about upcoming reunions, what happened including photos, and the aftermath.

For example, we know that august body of men, The Year of '61, and their partners, are meeting at the National Wine Centre in Adelaide from 5 pm on November 18. When the photos are developed the Digest would be more than happy to publish one, or more.

AWARD OF MERIT

The Committee will welcome nominations for the 2006 Award of Merit, which should be in the hands of the Committee by 30th June, 2006.

Details of guidelines and nomination procedures will be found on the ROCA Website at:-

<<http://www.roseworthy.adelaide.edu.au/Campus/ROCA/index.html>>

LOST MEMBERS

By various means we gain current addresses for members with whom we have lost touch, but, despite our best endeavours, there are still between 400 & 500 ROCA members whose whereabouts are unknown to the Committee. Some of these may well be deceased.

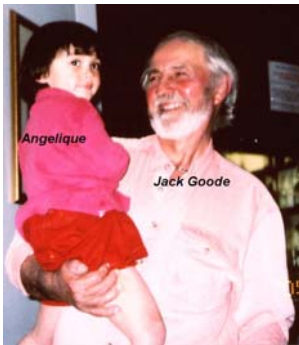

In the coming months we plan to list these members on the website in the hope that they can be located.

1958 GRADUATES

submitted by Ross Solly

In 1955 a group of some 30+ individuals first passed the scrutiny of Mr Ridley's statue, eventually gelling into the graduating year of 1958.

Thirteen members and wives met, reminisced and had dinner at the Chateau Barossa Motel at Lyndoch, aptly on the longest night of the year, i.e. June 21st 2005. The prize for coming the longest distance was awarded to Ian and Carol Donald from Brisbane, though Simon and Jane Fletcher from the New England area, were travel weary as well.

Jack Goode was in sparkling form as he asked

Bob Robins to give a Toast to the College. Many added their own responses and proceedings did degenerate. Many showed their advancing years as they were in bed by midnight, which would not have happened some fifty years ago.

After breakfast, the group drove to the College and we first heard the chime from the clock tower. We had coffee in the Dining Room, walked up to the Farm and reminisced some more. We then adjourned to Doc Leitch's Pub, had lunch and for most, a first legal drink there.

Following lunch, we went our own ways, promising to repeat the situation in a few years' time.

EYRE PENINSULA BRANCH REPORT

prepared by Rachel May

The Eyre Peninsula branch of ROCA held their AGM Dinner at Port Lincoln on March 5th 2005. 35 members and partners attended at the Pier Hotel.

Barry Lawes was again appointed Chairman, with Brian Ashton Secretary, Craig Williams Assistant Secretary and Mark Stanley Treasurer. Committee positions are held by seven other members from across Eyre Peninsula.

Special guest for the evening was Andrew Polkinghorne, a successful farmer from Lock on Central EP. In 2000 – 03, Andrew was General Manager of Farm Services, Roseworthy Campus. During his time he was involved in the review of functional and operational issues of the Roseworthy farm. Andrew gave an interesting insight into the farm operations and an overview of its future. Dinner patrons greatly appreciated this information.

The following day saw a brunch held at Barry and Tina Lawes home for all local and distant travellers. Thank you once again for your kind hospitality.

The 2006 Dinner and AGM will be held in early February. Stay tuned for the date and venue. The dinner is open to all graduates of Roseworthy and their partners, in particular residents of EP. Any one not receiving invitations in the past should provide contact details to committee members. The mailing list is only kept up to date by word of mouth.

ROCA MEMBERSHIP - What of the future?

Selected extract from ROCA Constitution

5.2.1 Ordinary Life Member

Subject to the approval of the Committee of the Association and upon payment of all prescribed fees the following persons may become Life Members:

5.2.1.1 Students who have received tuition at the Campus for the equivalent of one academic year;

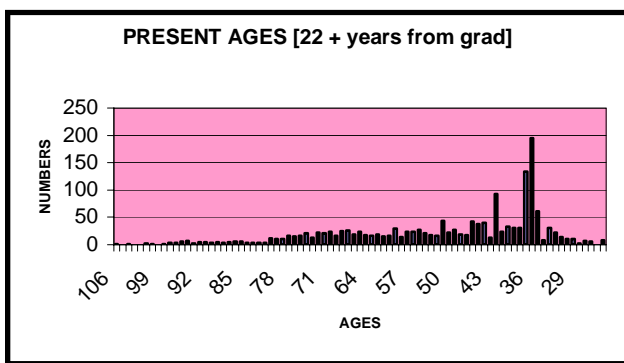

5.2.1.3 Agricultural Science Graduates and Non-Graduates of the Adelaide University prior to 1956;

Until 1989 it was a straightforward matter to satisfy Clause 5.2.1.1., as every graduate had spent at least one academic year at the College. Even those who did not graduate usually were covered by the clause. However, since 1990 a couple of issues have made it more difficult to identify those who satisfy Clause 5.2.1.1.

Many of the courses are no longer tied to a particular campus, so that graduates are not classified by the University in any way that lines up with Clause 5.2.1.1.

In addition, prior to 1990 there was one graduation ceremony, held at Roseworthy, which all graduates attended. Now, there can be up to four ceremonies in any one year.

The following chart shows the numbers of graduates recruited from each graduating year with their estimated ages at the present. The spike of 195 is the 1991 graduate group who are now about 36 years old. Your Management Committee is addressing this matter, and has appointed a sub-committee to conduct appropriate research. This group, headed by Peter Day, has come up with a Five Year Plan to address the matter.

This was considered at an extraordinary meeting of the Management Committee held on Monday 8th August.

While this is a complicated matter requiring continued attention, the Committee has decided to take immediate steps in attempts to broaden the scope toward the expansion of ROCA membership.

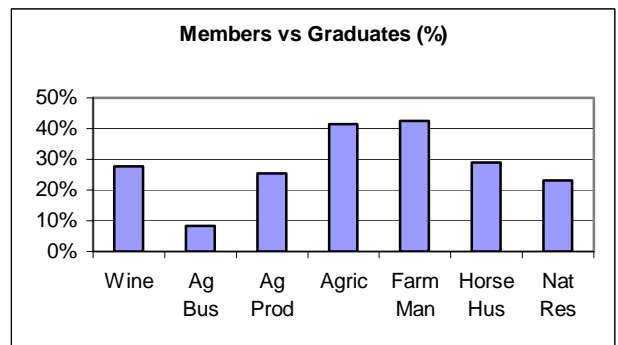

These include:-

- targeting graduating classes through direct contact, attendance at dinners and in mail outs,
- focussing on 10 and 25 year graduates, and
- accessing graduate networks

The following chart shows the raw numbers comparison between total graduates in a number of disciplines and the number of ROCA members gleaned from them.

Now, that same data expressed as percentages.

The Committee is committed to exploring all avenues of ensuring that;

- ROCA garners as many members as possible from each graduating year,
- every effort is made to persuade existing non-member graduates and Roseworthy attendees to join, and,
- ROCA provides worthwhile incentives for becoming a member.

There is no doubt that our readers have many ideas on the nature of ROCA, its purposes and its bases for membership. If so, please contact a member of the Committee and pass on those thoughts.

See Page 4. for contact details for the Committee.

CAMPUS NEWS

AN END TO MULESING ?

Readers who saw the 21/8/05 edition of LandLine on ABC Television will, no doubt, have opinions about the US-based group "People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals" [PETA], and their campaign against the Australian wool industry. This debate will not be canvassed here, except to report that Ian McLachlan of Australian Wool Innovation stated that the Australian wool industry has an absolute will to get rid of mulesing [as currently practised] by 2010, and before, if possible. At the same time he reaffirmed that AWI would proceed with legal action against PETA, despite the decision by the minority group, Australian Wool Growers, to do a deal with PETA.

However, two matters arose from that program that deserve reporting in such a publication as this. Both of these issues relate to the possibility of dispensing with the traditional Mules operation.

The first concerns information from Neil Smith on Calcookara Station, Eyre Peninsula. Three years ago Neil and his wife Pat noticed a couple of rams with absence of wool in the breech. So naturally, they were named Kojak and Garrett, the "bare-bottom" boys. Kojak's bare area extends right down inside the leg and up to the anal area, with the scrotum being completely bald. Garrett has a little more wool in the breech, but it is easily pulled out.

Professor Phil Hynd, Director of Roseworthy Campus, is almost certain this is an inherited characteristic, which means that mating bare-breeched rams with bare-breeched ewes should produce bare-breeched offspring. "Unfortunately a genetic alternative to mulesing will take time - years, maybe even decades to flow through the entire Australian flock," Professor Hynd said.

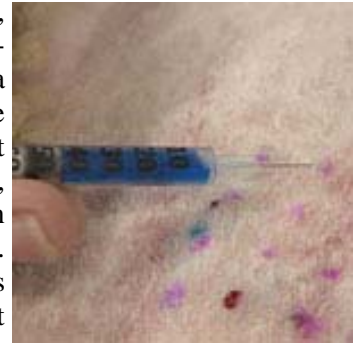

In the meantime, however, he has another promising project on the go, which it's hoped, will provide a solution much sooner. "It's based on a discovery that came out of pure science in our laboratory," said Professor Hynd. "We found a protein which seems to have the same effect as mulesing. It causes the skin to contract and to enlarge the bare area around the breech, which is what we need."

The protein is called collagenase. It is a naturally occurring enzyme, but the injection of large doses into the skin breaks down the collagen in the skin, forming scar tissue and contracting the region.

Professor Hynd was then asked whether he really believed he had discovered an alternative to mulesing. "Yes, we have," he said, "but it's still in the research phase. We need a simple applicator. We need to prove that it works in all conditions, in all sheep types and in different environments. It's a big ask, and that's why mulesing hasn't been replaced yet."

There are at least four applicators being produced by manufacturers, and field trials are expected to begin in October. While some of the factors getting this process to market are completely out of Phil Hynd's hands, he is really feeling the pressure to make it work.

OTHER CAMPUS NEWS

New Farm Manager

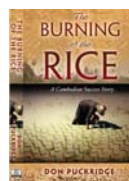

John Matheson started on the 2nd May 2005 as the new Roseworthy Farm Manager. John graduated from Roseworthy in 1979 with a DipAppScAg, consolidating that with a GradDipAg in 1993.

Campus Information Day

Information day was held on Friday 12th August, with good numbers of prospective students and parents in attendance. Interest was shown in Agriculture, Animal Science and Natural Resource Management programs.

The Burning of the Rice

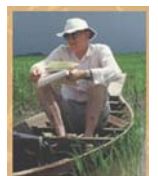

from the cover

Dr D W Puckridge was involved with agricultural systems in South and South-East Asia for over 20 years. In Cambodia he worked closely with government officials and village leaders from 1986 and then with the Cambodia-IRRI-Australia-Project from 1989.

The cost of this book is $20.00 and Don is kindly donating a portion to the ROCA Funds.

Don Puckridge graduated from Roseworthy Agricultural College with an RDA(2nd Class Hons) in 1953.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION SUPPORT FOR ROCA

Wilf Bowen (ROCA past president) is a member of the Alumni Association Board of the University of Adelaide. He represents the interests of chapters of which ROCA is the largest, and contributes to:

- fostering the interests of the U of A especially as these relate to the Roseworthy campus
- maintaining active communication with the staff and management of the university
- supporting the operation and activities of the Alumni Association.

ROCA benefits from its involvement with the Alumni Association by:

- sharing lists of graduates, particularly since the amalgamation in 1990
- members receiving two issues a year of the Lumen and may register to receive regular editions of the Adelaidean – the university newsletter

- publication of current activities, coming events, achievements of Roseworthy graduates and developments at the campus
- support for the financial management of the Roseworthy Campus and Student Fund
- support for contacting graduates and assistance with the Digest.

The Alumni Board is supported with resources and personnel from the University's Development and Alumni office.

Stop Press: The Alumni Association has undertaken a major update of its constitution. This was approved by the University Council on August 2nd 2005. As ROCA is an incorporated body, it is now recognised as an Affiliated body. This will not change the close working relationship with the university and Alumni Association and enables ROCA to continue with its other interests.

ROCA STUDENT PRIZES

The ROCA Annual student prizes for 2004 were awarded at recent prize giving ceremonies.

For the first time the School of Environmental and Earth Sciences had a prize giving ceremony. Held at the Adelaide Zoo on May 30th, winners, parents, friends and staff were addressed by Mr Ed McAllister AO. The Annual ROCA Gold Medal goes to the candidate who, on completing the degree Bachelor of Natural Resource Management, is in the opinion of the Faculty the most distinguished of the students graduating from the program. ROCA president Mark Seeliger presented this award to Nicole Zeoli. She is now employed in the natural resource management program at Murray Bridge.

The School of Agriculture and Wine again held its ceremony at the National Wine Centre on June 9th. In the Degree of Bachelor of Agriculture the ROCA Old Students Cup and Trophy was awarded to Rebecca Hall. Rebecca, who came from the NT was not able to be present on the occasion owing to the taking up of a position on Qld.

The congratulations of ROCA members go to both these very worthy winners!

Mark Seeliger presenting the ROCA gold medal to Nicole Zeoli

University Archives Volunteer Group Roseworthy Subgroup

As you may already know a group of volunteers from ROCA are working on the University of Adelaide's archival collection which includes various documents plus numerous unlabelled, undated and unnamed photographs from the last 100 years. Roseworthy's "The Student" and other college magazines are an invaluable source of information and especially useful in identifying photographs.

Some of those who have been helpful and have generously donated magazines include Rex Krause, Brian Condon, Dave Suter and Rex Butterfield.

We would now like to fill in the remaining gaps in the University archives collection and would gratefully accept donations of original magazines for the following:

- all years up to and including 1937
- 1941
- 1952 and 1959
- 1963
- 1972 - 1976 inclusive
- all copies from 1978 with the exception of 1988

If you do not wish to donate your copy but are willing to lend it to us to photocopy, it would be greatly appreciated.

Tracking Roseworthy Graduates by Denys Slee

I knew my father went to Roseworthy but wasn't sure of the year he graduated.

So what to do? Perhaps ring around and see if any family members could help or alternatively, go to the college (now university campus) and look on the boards in the dining room.

Neither of these was necessary as the query was solved with one phone call to University of Adelaide Reference Archivist, Helen Bruce, who told me that Clem Slee graduated in 1939 with an RDA.

Mark Seeliger handing the Graduate List to Kylie Percival

It is this type of query that Helen is handling since the first complete list of graduates was finalised earlier this year – a list containing the names of more than 4,000 graduates from 1886 to 2003.

Former ROCA president, Wilf Bowen, Sue Coppin from the University Archives and ROCA Digest Editor, Ron Tuckwell, were the driving forces behind this major work which will be a very useful record for ROCA and the University. And information on it is also in demand from individuals.

"Most of the people seeking information are involved in family history searches," Helen said. "I have had queries for information as far back as 1907."

Helen said that not only was information available about those who have graduated but also who enrolled but left for one reason or another before graduation. This latter data is held in student enrolment records at the university.

"Then there has been a request for the complete list of graduates," Helen said.

"This isn't available yet as some of the data is being fine-tuned but once we are satisfied that it is correct as possible, consideration will be given to putting it on the University's Website. There won't be any privacy considerations as the names of graduates and the year they graduated is a matter of public record anyway."

2005 GOLF DAY

Roseworthy Agricultural College Old Collegians vs. Hawkesbury Agricultural College Old Scholars (SA Branch).

Thirteenth Annual Golf Day and Get Together

Barossa Valley Golf Club, Nuriootpa SA
Sunday 30th October, 2005

Following the success of the past 12 Annual RAC vs HAC Golf Days, we hope to reinstate our reputation of winning against Hawkesbury Old Scholars at this year's Golf Day.

The challenge will take place at the above venue with the starting time of 9.30am for a 10.00am tee off.

Whilst the aim of the day is for fellowship and to enjoy ourselves, we will try to field a team of at least ten (10) players from ROCA and likewise 10 from HAC. However, the more the merrier. You are welcome to invite a friend or two along to play in the visitors' competition.

For those not playing golf, you may wish to take in some of the sights during the day, or walk around the course. We look forward to good roll-up of Old Collegians at this function.

A barbecue lunch will be held, with the cost of the day being $30 per person (lunch and golf) or $10 per person (lunch only).

TROPHY ASSISTANCE

We again seek your assistance with the donation of trophies (e.g. Company logo golf balls, bottles of wine or port, golf umbrellas, cap, shirts, etc.) for presentation to the various category winners. All donations would be greatly appreciated.

IDENTIFYING THE UNKNOWN

The photo shown here is one of hundreds being added to the archives at the University of Adelaide – all the photos having some connection to Roseworthy College.

The work is being done by a team of ex-graduates who meet on Tuesday's at the University's North Terrace campus. In this labor of love they have had to use many and varied techniques to have people and places shown in the photos identified.

One of these is to copy a photo and send it to a person who is recognised and ask that person to identify the "unknowns". This was the case with the photo accompanying this article where mid-1960s students Nick Brooks and Vic Patrick were identified at an RAC sports day but not so a runner in one of the events. A copy of the photo was sent to Nick who, while helping with the identification process, revealed that he had some memorabilia which might be useful for the archives.

Nick also said that PIRSA in Mt Gambier was holding a box of Roseworthy-linked material which is thought to be associated with the operations of the former south-east sub-branch of ROCA.

Nick has offered to collect the material when he is next in the south-east and bring it to the University for classification.

As mentioned in the last Digest, volunteer Dick Flower has spent his Tuesday afternoons assembling as many copies of the "Student" magazine as possible. A call for missing copies made in the "Student" has been heeded by readers and these copies, and previously existing ones, are an invaluable resource for the archival work - many of the photos awaiting identification having been published in the magazine.

Another facet of the identification process occurred when volunteer Andrew Brown arranged for retired lecturers Rex Krause, Milton Spurling and David Suter to visit the University. There they were shown dozens of photos awaiting identification and enthusiastically went about their work.

And of course, there are the readers of the "Digest" who have been of significant assistance when we have published pics of people and places not familiar to the volunteers. Readers like Ruth Robinson of Jamestown, Ian Hickinbotham of Williamstown, Victoria, Michael Brajkovich and Bob Knappstein in New Zealand, John Ellis of Newham, Victoria, Tony Clancy in Adelaide and Tig Donellan in Katherine, NT.

So keep up the good work – here are more pics. Please put names to the faces and contact Digest editor Ron Tuckwell on 8863 3013, or <civilwords@bigpond.com>
