

an undignified and degraded position would the Melbourne University be reduced in the eyes of the world! Its conduct would be universally reprobated as to the last degree ungenerous and illiberal. People would say of it that its spirit was of the most exclusive and selfish kind. All the public sympathy would go with Sydney, as now it is given to Dr. ROWAN, whom it is sought to victimise; and whole years of better conduct on the part of its council would not efface the stigma that would attach to the Melbourne University.
