

01110
H325

THE IMPACT OF PROSTITUTION ON AUSTRALIAN TROOPS ON ACTIVE SERVICE IN A WAR ENVIRONMENT - WITH PARTICULAR
REFERENCE TO SOCIOLOGICAL FACTORS INVOLVED
IN THE INCIDENCE AND CONTROL OF VENEREAL DISEASE

A THESIS
SUBMITTED FOR THE
DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

Gavin Hart B.Sc.(Hons), M.B., B.S.

Department of Medicine

January 1974

CONTENTS

	Page
1. List of Plates	viii
2. Summary	xi
3. Originality of Thesis	xiv
4. Advance to Medical knowledge	xv
5. Review of related literature
I. FAILURE TO CONTROL VENEREAL DISEASE	1
1. General factors
2. Personal prophylaxis
3. Contact tracing
II. PSYCHOLOGICAL ASPECTS OF VENEREAL DISEASE	29
1. Personality
2. Emotional sequelae
III. PROSTITUTION	37
1. Definition
2. Regulation
3. Characteristics of prostitutes
4. Clients of prostitutes
5. Military aspects
6. Prostitution and venereal disease
IV. MILITARY ASPECTS OF VENEREAL DISEASE	58
1. Statistics
2. Military policy
3. Leadership and morale
4. Environmental factors
5. Individual factors

	Page
V. VENEREAL DISEASE AND AUSTRALIAN SOCIETY	82
1. Aspects of Australian society
2. Australian involvement with venereal disease
VI. PROGRESS IN THE MANAGEMENT OF GONORRHEA	94
6. Acknowledgements	106
7. Text

PART I. SETTING & METHODOLOGY

SECTION 1. GEOGRAPHICAL SETTING	107
SECTION 2. CLINICAL SETTING	110
I.2.1 Administration
I.2.2 Incidence of venereal disease
SECTION 3. SOCIOLOGICAL SETTING	125
I.3.1 Prostitution and Venereal Disease
I.3.2 Analysis existing statistics
SECTION 4. METHODOLOGY	155
I.4.1 Introduction
I.4.2 Descriptive study
I.4.3 Interviews with Commanding Officers.

PART II. RESEARCH STUDIES

SECTION 1. CLINICAL PROBLEMS	173
II.1.1 Gonorrhoea
II.1.2 Penile ulcers
SECTION 2. SOCIOLOGICAL FINDINGS	196
II.2.1 Exploratory Study
II.2.2 Descriptive Study

SECTION 3. SOME SOCIOLOGICAL FACTORS ASSOCIATED WITH VENEREAL DISEASE	210
II.3.1 Venereal disease education and attitudes
II.3.2 Alcohol usage
II.3.3 Prophylaxis
II.3.4 Environmental Stress
II.3.5 Types of Sexual behaviour
II.3.6 Psychological impact
II.3.7 The role of Army leadership
II.3.8 Miscellaneous findings

SECTION 4. CONCLUSIONS	303
------------------------	-----

8. Appendices

ANNEX I (appendices to PART I)

Appendix 1. Historical setting of the Vietnamese campaign.	1
2. Army documentation and surveillance of venereal disease instructions.	6
3. Classification by locality.	9
4. Form for weekly notification of venereal disease to unit.	9
5. Monthly signal notification to headquarters.	10
6. Attachment for documents of soldiers returning to Australia.	11
7. Classification of weekly V.D. by disease.	12
8. Classification by country, rank and unit.	13
9. Official disease rates in Australian troops.	14

10. Official disease rates in United States troops.	16
11. Memo of 26th April, 1969.	18
12. Meeting of 21st May, 1969.	21
13. List of out of bounds bars.	23
14. Letter of 18 August, 1967 regarding venereal disease control in Hong Kong.	24
15. Long trace report.	25
16. Hong Kong trace report.	26
17. Brief trace report.	27
18. USARV form 65 used for trace reports.	28
19. Form used for collating data from trace reports.	29
20. Complete analysis of trace reports.	30
21. Sociological questionnaire.	33
22. The characteristics of the 17 patients excluded from study due to inconsistencies in their questionnaires.	48

ANNEX II (Appendices to Part II)

1. Summary of results from the exploratory study.	49
2. Fees for sexual stimulation.	50
3. Summary of sociological parameters of the control series, V.D. and no-V.D. groups (all divided into conscripts and volunteers).	52
4. Summary of sociological parameters of the control series (divided into i.c. and no-i.c.) and of the clinic series (divided into V.D. and no-V.D.)	59
5. Summary of findings for the clinic series, divided into V.D. and no-V.D. (with further subdivision in each group into single and married: conscripts and volunteers).	65

6. The relationship of various sociological parameters to frequency of intercourse with prostitutes in Australia.	78
7. The relationship of various sociological parameters with age of first intercourse.	81
8. The relationship of various sociological parameters to infection with V.D. before visiting Vietnam.	83
9. The relationship of various sociological parameters to homosexuality in Vietnam.	85
10. Prophylaxis related to various sociological parameters.	87
11. Summary of findings of some less important epidemiological factors in the clinic series (divided into conscripts and volunteers: single and married).	88
12. The relationship of various sociological parameters to initiation of sex in bars.	92
13. The relationship of various sociological parameters to intercourse on the roadside in Vietnam.	93
14. Sociological parameters altering intention to have intercourse.	95
15. The relationship of various sociological parameters to the intention to have further intercourse in Vietnam.	96

16.	Analysis of some sociological factors associated with the psychological impact of prostitution on attenders at a venereal disease clinic.	97
17.	The relationship of various sociological parameters to desire to marry a Vietnamese.	101
18.	The relationship of various sociological parameters to parental approval of promiscuity.	103
19.	The relationship of various sociological parameters to frequency of masturbation in Vietnam.	105
20.	The relationship of various sociological parameters to the incidence of fellatio in Australia and in Vietnam.	107
21.	The relationship of various sociological parameters to cunnilingus in Vietnam.	108
22.	Proforma distributed at a brief lecture to all new arrivals in Vietnam.	110
23.	Glossary of terms commonly used by soldiers in Vietnam.	112
24.	Comparison of sociological parameters of those acquiring venereal disease only once with those for patients with multiple infections.	118
25.	Prophylaxis used compared to belief in efficacy.	121
26.	Letter from a Military Commander to Headquarters, September 1970.	122
27.	Letter from a Military Commander to Sub units, January 1969.	127

28.	Letter from a Military Commander to Headquarters, January 1971.	128
29.	Letter from a Military Commander to Sub units, May 1968.	133
30.	Letter from Headquarters to a Military Commander, March 1969.	134
31.	Letter from a senior medical officer to Allied Command Headquarters, June 1970.	136
32.	Letter from a senior medical officer to a Military Command, April 1970.	137
33.	DGMS Technical Instruction 3/66, Venereal Disease, November 1966.	140
34.	AFV Medical Technical Instruction No. 6. Management of venereal disease, October 1968.	148
35.	Letter from a senior medical officer to a Military Commander, May 1967.	151
36.	Instruction to Medical Officers from a senior Medical Officer, January 1971.	154
37.	Principles of venereal disease control in a Military environment.	158
9.	Bibliography.	161

*****