

16 January 1932.

G.U. Yule, Esq.,
St Jdn's College,
Cambridge.

Dear Udney Yule:

I was induced years ago to look at some stuff from the Industrial Institute, and to put them on the rails about calculating regressions. Since then I have had from time to time vast files of typescript, with letters full of what Doughty, if he knew Americans, would call "their dunghill accidental courtesy". I do not know that Wyld is an American except in spirit, but I have not the least intention of coming to the paper on Tuesday:-
Alia exterendum.

Yours sincerely,