Dear Aitken,

Many thanks for your draft on Sheppard. I enclose a copy on which you will see that I have taken the liberty of introducing insertions and modifications. Do not accept any of these unless you really approve. I enclose also two additional notes, which might appear as editorial footnotes to what you say. As to tables, I think Sheppard has been treated very unjustly, but the Tables Committee of the British Association has now near completion the very fine tables at which he had been at work.

Yours sincerely,
