

10th November, 1951.

My dear Andrade,

Thank you for thinking of me as a Friday Evening Discourse lecturer. It is a thing that I should very much like to do some time, but I believe I have never attended anything but the children's lectures, so I shall need guidance as to length, breadth and depth.

I suspect that I should enjoy more a lecture particularly concerned with Genetics, past, present and future, than on Statistics.

Sincerely yours,