

5th March, 1957.

Dear Luca,

You may remember my effort to get you to lecture in this Department this time last year, and I am writing on the chance that at very short notice you could give a lecture during your visit to Cambridge, say Friday evening or Saturday morning, March 22nd or 23rd. This would indeed be during the vacation, but the University authorities seem to be reconciled to this disadvantage. I cannot, however, say how many people would turn up.

Sincerely yours,