My dear Professor,

I understand from Montalenti that you wrote him supporting my project for a summer school, and I should like to thank you very much for it. I have now written to Montalenti giving some more detail. Bliss wrote suggesting that the project might be enlarged to Europe, having a summer school session each year in ^a different countries, and this seems certainly a good idea.

Work is proceeding very slowly. Also the writing of a book of medical statistics was too slow: I therefore decided to associate with Giulio for this last task and we are now proceeding at a better pace.

Mattéo and my wife send their best greetings.

Yours sincerely

Luca.
