

2nd January, 1947.

My dear Derlington,

In reply to yours of the 31st, I suppose the eight papers you list fill the first number pretty neatly. I should be very anxious to have Hinge's name as a contributor to our first number, and should wait for that if necessary, and my own with Ford is awaiting his return from the States.

I have generally found it better to assign the order of papers when the number is first made up for the press. Usually, there is then less trouble afterwards. I do not know whether you wished me to send the Agreement to Oliver and Boyd with comments, but I am sending it back to you with my initialed agreements on the points to which you referred.

Yours sincerely,
