

4th December, 1952.

Dear Cyril,

I now have a completed and corrected copy of some work on blood group P which I did quite a while ago and which I think ought to be published in view of the fact that the multiple allele suggestion made on the basis of Henningsen's work may otherwise be taken too seriously. The method of estimating proportion of heterozygotes also seems to be what Race and Sanger have been needing for testing unifactorial inheritance.

Sincerely yours,