[mid. July 1948] <sup>1948</sup>

My dear Ron,

I feel so sorry I did not see you to say good-bye before leaving Stockholm. Demerec asked me to dinner on the Wednesday night, and on the Thursday I had to settle down all day to the Conference on terminology in Cytology and Genetics which Munro Fox had asked me to attend. Seemingly it is one of the curious activities of UNESCO. He got so far as to define what it was he was going to define, which is quite a long way for such a body.

Stockholm was truly delightful, and our happy times all together contributed so much to it. I shall often think of them - and the incredible Reinder - Prawn Episode.

It will be so nice to see you in Edinburgh. At Stockholm with so much, and so many friends, on hand, it was not possible to get a quiet discussion alone. That I particularly want now that I shall get some chance to develop genetics at Oxford. You will know, my dear Tom, how much I want to consult you.

In addition, I shall bring this year's dominula data. They will not be complete yet, but we shall be  $3/4$  of the way through, and it will be lovely to look them through together. So far the numbers are very small: there may be no more than 1000 again this year (as once before), and there seems to be a slight rise in the gene-frequency of medisnixa. There are one or two curious features which will be more easily discussed than written about.

Yours ever,
Henry
