

8th. May 1948.

My dear Henry,

Thanks for your letter. I quite understand about the visit to Oxford, and had really no reason to hope that I should find you free at the time of the Scientific Club talk.

I have been through the paper which you have completed, and have sent it on to Darlington with only trifling alterations. I think myself it is entirely suitable for Heredity, but shall not press Darlington if he feels otherwise, as I want to develop a common policy as to the scope which the publication hopes to cover.

Yours sincerely,
