

20th. December 1946.

My dear Henry,

Here is the paper sent to Oxford to await your return from the States. I have omitted your page introductory to the last Section as it did not well fit what I had written, and I thought you might like to set your points in a clearer light in the summary, where the outstanding points must be emphasised.

I hope you are enjoying your trip.

Yours sincerely,