

7th November, 1955.

My dear Henry,

Thank you so much for your congratulations. As you know, what I particularly value is the pleasure which such awards give to one's friends.

It reminds me, however, of something more important, namely that we have not fixed a date for your next visit to Cambridge. I hope you will manage one during this winter.

Sincerely yours,