

7th. March, 1930.

E.B. Ford, Esq., M.A.,
16 Museum Road,
OXFORD.

Dear Ford,

Yes, I read the paper carefully, and thought it was perfectly fair, including the summary.

I should be interested to hear more of the fluctuations in numbers any time you care to discuss it. Of course I should always be delighted to see you here to lunch. If you cared to make it Friday the 21st., Lowe and Kinnair are coming down that day to resolve my suspicions about my wild Gallus gallus stock, and you might care to see my birds with them.

Yours sincerely,