My dear Ron,

I am so glad you are interested by the green-flowered primrose, and that someone in your department may be able to look into its genetics. It really would be rather nice to have the outstanding points settled. I will write at once and see if I can get a root.

I am ~~agreed~~ pleased to hear you think Gordon's paper worth publishing. It seemed so to me. Certainly it would be very nice if there could be a coloured Plate. I do think that of the highest value (if it can be managed) for these colour-factors. I am sure Gordon will be greatly incensed.

In regard to our note about Wright's paper, I absolutely agree with what you suggest. Shall I go through it and add a few explanatory paragraphs for your consideration? I am so glad you feel it would be in order for Heredity to publish such a rejoinder.

I do feel rather strongly that Wright's paper his Resolution ought not just to be left unanswered.

Yours truly,
Henry
