

January 28, 1937

Dear Professor Gini,

I am very glad to have your letter of January 18th. A packet of my offprints will probably have arrived before this.

I am sending herewith the interesting account of the theory of estimation and other topics, which Romanovsky published now many years ago in Russian. It must have appeared about 1927, but I forget the exact date. You will be amused by the editorial footnote with which it opens. I have been told that the editor was an Englishwoman called Smith, of whom I have not otherwise heard.

I shall hope to have Romanovsky's typescript back sometime at your convenience, but there is no immediate hurry about this.

Yours sincerely,
