

16 February 1943

Dear Gray,

Many thanks for your letters. If I came over on Friday, could I catch you at or about lunch-time? It is always a preposterously difficult journey from here and I have to get back on Friday evenings for duty with the Home Guard.

I am very much attracted by what you and your friends propose, and I think you could fairly say this to the Committee. There are a number of circumstances that I should like to see you about, and Dean also, when opportunity allows.

Yours sincerely,