

21st January, 1959.

My dear Rob,

Thanks for telling me about the very curious serological cases you have been collecting. Has there ever been a serological test for cancer suggested or used? On the 14th, which is a Saturday, I hope you may either come down in the morning and lunch with me, or at least pick me up in my rooms sometime in the evening. I am suggesting to Robin that he should do the latter, dinner itself being at 8.0. I shall arrange a room for you in College.

Sincerely yours,

Dr R. R. Race. F.R.S.
