

10th March, 1951.

My dear Rob,

Thanks for your letter with the analysis of the data. So far as I can see, you have done just what I had intended to do had I not lost your data meanwhile. I wonder if it would be worth while making in the second place, a comparison of the numbers of recessive children expected in those families which actually have them?

Yours sincerely,