

10th. December 1946.

My dear Rob,

I wonder if you can manage, after all your excesses in Mexico, a very mild binge which we are organising at my college by way of breaking the ice, after an arduous period of war time abstinence. Of course I should expect to put you up in college or perhaps out here at Whittinghams Lodge, if either of these arrangements were convenient.

I have also suggested your name for the Co-ordinating Committee for Cytology and Genetics of the British Association, in the hope of doing something to keep them out of mischief.

Yours sincerely,
