

March 12, 1937

Dear Rasmussen,

I was glad to get your letter introducing Astrand and suggesting the possibility of his working for a few weeks with Yates and myself. I should, of course, be very glad to have him for a time in this Department, and he could sign on for the Summer term for, I think, under £10. There is, at present, room in the Computing Room, so that I should suggest he comes here, and I can take him down to see Yates and Cochrane at Rothamsted some Saturday.

As you know, Yates and I work in very close touch and see each other a good deal.

Yours sincerely,

I find the fees are, for a full time student for one term:

Registration Fee	£2. 2. 0.
Fee to include attendance at lectures	8. 6. 0.
Use of calculating machines	1.11. 6